

2017 Year in Review

Thanks to your investment and participation, we have cultivated new partnerships, expanded leadership positions and discovered new ways to bring innovative projects to life.

ADMINISTRATION ACHIEVEMENTS

Expanded Senior Advisors group to 6

Increased Executive Director hours & responsibilities

Continued commitment to being fiscally responsible

Supporting the future with more scholarships

WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

- Dr. Penny Culbreth-Graft appointed as Senior Advisor
- Heather Geyer nominated to ICMA Board
- Kelly Houghteling, Jennifer Hoffman, and Trish Stiles joined CCCMA board
- Supporting Jane
 Brautigam's nomination for ICMA President
- #QualifiedColoradoWomen Women continue to be hired and promoted to Manager positions
 across the state

PARTNERSHIPS TO STRENGTHEN CCCMA

- Alliance for Innovation
- Bang the Table
- Compact for Colorado Communities
- Institute for Excellence in Government

- Slate Communications
- Smart Cities
- Strategic Government Resources

INNOVATION KICK-OFF

We studied how CCCMA can support this concept.

WE EXPLORED:

New committee of managers

Additional committee of innovation officers and thought leaders

A partnership with Alliance for Innovation

A partnership with Smart Cities

Training opportunities

What other states are doing

ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Record attendance

Even with conference 4 weeks early

100+ pitchers of beer shared at Doc's

Researched potential venues for 2019

Thank you for the opportunity to lead CCCMA in 2017. We built on past lessons to identify ways to improve lasting relationships and create new ones, particularly focusing on peer to peer connections. I look forward to the continued momentum.

-Wesley LaVanchy, 2017 President of CCCMA

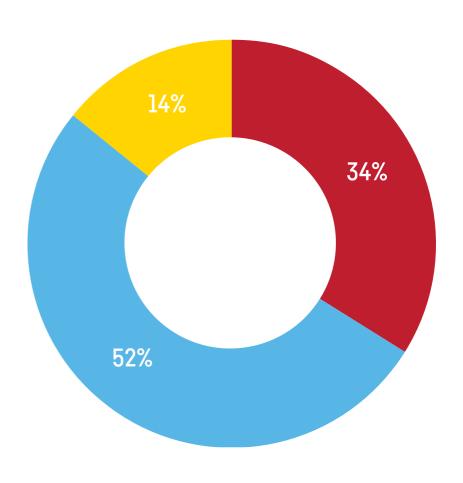

2017 EXPENSES

In 2017, the sixth consecutive year without raising the price of membership dues or conference registration, expenses were increased to offer more member benefits and increase the amount of scholarships awarded.

Membership Benefits (includes Conference Training & Advisor Support)

Administration

Scholarships & Fellowships

FOR 2018

CHAMPIONING INNOVATION

Promoting innovative projects for communities with or without Innovation Officers

Bringing Sustainovation Trainings to 4 different locations

ENHANCING ENGAGMENT

New website

Map of member locations to facilitate connections

Manager Minutes

#slack conversations for Emerging Managers

FEATURED PROJECT: MANAGER MINUTES

CCCMA's mission is to elevate Managers across the state through peer learning and experience. Just as we share lessons and stories at the annual conference, Manager Minutes allows us to do the same from our own offices. These short 1-2 minute videos feature different Managers who discuss their approach or lessons learned about common challenges.

CCCMA and our communications partner, Slate Communications, will be visiting Managers throughout Colorado to capture the important experiences of your peers. We'll create short videos throughout the year and share them with you. If you'd like to participate in a video, visit managerminutes.com to sign up.

The first few editions tackle:

- Funding a Project
- O Community Engagement
- O Workplace Development

VIEW THE VIDEOS AT MANAGERMINUTES.COM

