Revoked Emergency Declarations

4 Yes

10 No

G'morning all,

Our Board has expressed a keen interest in revoking the Town's Emergency Declaration. We understand there are impacts to our relaxed liquor licensed premises at restaurants, remote meetings (especially quasi-judicial public hearings) and probably others.

My questions this morning:

- Of those towns that declared emergencies during the pandemic, who among you have now revoked?
- Any unintended consequences?

Thanks,

Jeff

We have not revoked ours yet.

We have not yet revoked in Crested Butte.

We've revoked all provisions of our Emergency Declaration with the exception of allowing our City Council to hold remote meetings.

Sterling revoked theirs two weeks ago. No issues so far.

We extended ours to November, to continue the relaxed rules through the busy summer season.

The Town of Lyons is keeping theirs in place (with lessening restrictions) so we do not jeopardize federal funding opportunities.

The City of Castle Pines is keeping ours in place, with some components removed, for the same purpose as the Town of Lyons. We expect to keep it in place as long as the State declaration is in place. We do not want to miss out on any Federal or State funding that requires an emergency to qualify – however slim that may be.

Town of Gypsum revoked in October 2020 to no ill effect.

Town of Oak Creek has followed the Routt County Board of Health decisions and will likely continue in this direction.

Aspen will keep it at least through fall tourism season.

The City of Gunnison will maintain its Emergency Declaration while our County Public Health Director still has active COVID 19 Public Health orders.

Winter Park has continued our through October 31 to give businesses flexibility for the coming summer season.

Greetings,

Johnstown is taking the same approach as Castle Pines.

Thanks,

ML

Good morning:

We removed the emergency ordinance a couple of weeks ago without any fanfare. In conjunction with that, the Board adopted a resolution that memorialized some of the actions that I had taken (ROW encroachments for liquor licenses, temporary parking for take-out, etc.), as well as preserving their ability to meet and vote remotely.

Everyone...

Greenwood Village is meeting on the emergency declaration topic at our next study session, to be held on 5/17. We have broken the discussion into 3 specific sub-areas for the discussion, Remote Meetings, Signage, and Outdoor Eating. This is from the overall if we continue the emergency declaration from the current public health orders.
